DJA consists of:

- Two Owner/Architects with over 50 years of combined experience.
- Architects who are “hands-on” and produce their own work.

DJA provides:

- Significant experience provided in all phases of a project.
- Personal, “hands-on” service from owners of the firm.
- Efficient decision making and document production.
- Control of design/cost issues. Projects are “value-engineered” as the design progresses.
- Design and management of projects from $15,000 to $4.5 million.

Davis / Jones Architecture, Inc. is a firm of two architects. We are licensed to practice architecture in the states of Colorado, California and Texas. We provide the client with over 50 combined years of experience in programming, design, project management, construction documentation and construction administration. Davis / Jones Architecture Inc. is deliberately sized to provide our clients with experienced and personal service. Jeff Jones and Don Davis are team players and “hands-on” architects. We enjoy working “one on one” with our clients and actually producing the work. In this way, our full experience can be brought to bear on any one project. Your project benefits from this approach because an experienced and licensed architect will perform all aspects of the work from initial project review to final closeout documentation.
